Word of the week:

Anthropomorphic

Class in the spotlight!

This week Kestrels did some fantastic poems about Fireworks. They thought really hard about the sounds of the fireworks and the way they look (some even thought about the smells).

We then decorated the outside of the poem with pastel fireworks.

Children in Need

On Friday 15th November it is Children in Need day, the children can come to school wearing multi-coloured non-school uniform (we are asking for a voluntary contribution of a £1). To raise funds for this great cause the Student Council are going to be holding a cake sale at breaktime (50p per cake) and a colouring competition.

Remembrance Day

We are selling poppies for Remembrance Day. If you would like to buy a poppy (or other item for sale e.g. a poppy reflector) then please provide your child with a donation- there is a suggested donation for different items. Our Remembrance service is Monday 11th at the monument outside the church just before 11:00. You are more than welcome to join us.

House Competition

Miss Stanley is still asking for some Autumnal poems for a house competition!

These will need to be submitted by December the 1st and will be judged by external judges. These poems can be of any type and will be judged in three categories (1 for each class).

The winning house will be given 100 house points and 2nd place will get 50 house points.

Entries must include a name!
