Can you go outside or on a walk and gather some leaves. Then have a go at making a pictogram like this one using the leaves you have found. If you can not find any leaves you could use your toys and arrange them in the same way, sorting by colour.

Visit this website, there are some fun maths games for you to play.

Can you have a go at decorating a stone to look like a cactus. You could try different designs like this and put them in a pot.

How many story books do you Have at home that rhyme. Can you find the rhyming words? Maybe you could make rhyming rockets for the words you find.

Mental Arithmetic – This week we will be doing some speed challenges to practise your knowledge of 2,5 and 10 times table facts and the related division facts.

Give your self one minute and see how many you get. I will post a new test each day for a week so keep a record of your scores and see if you improve.

<https://www.timestables.co.uk/1-minute-test/>

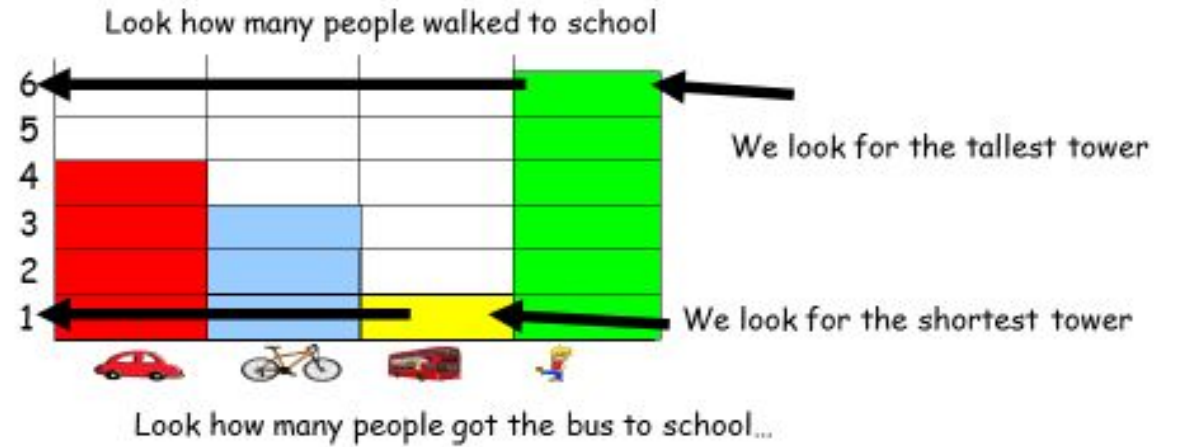

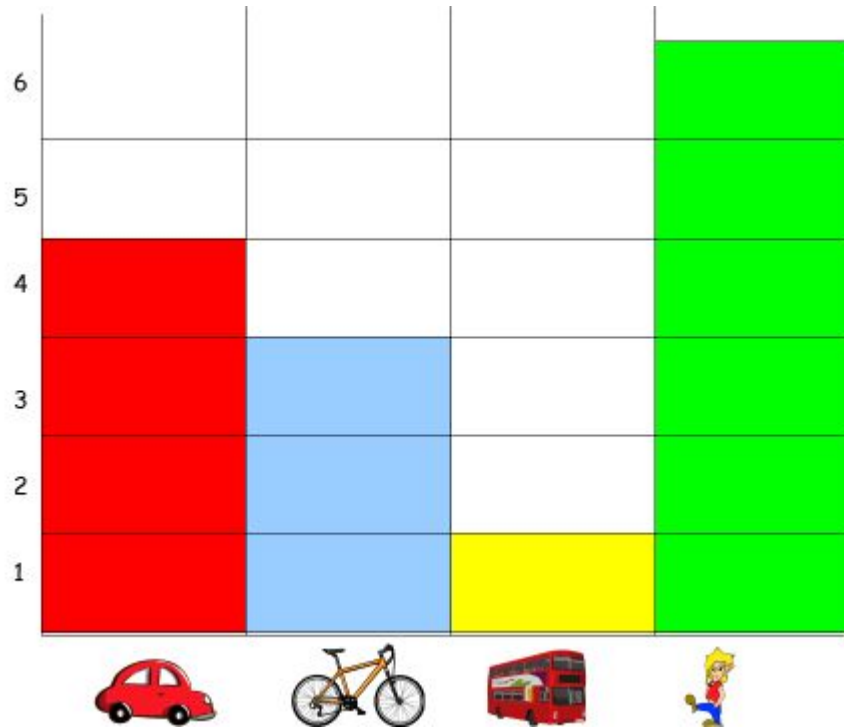

This is a good website to help you practise or for those of you who Are less confident can use this daily challenge instead.

A bar chart is a type of chart used to compare categories of data. Numerical values are represented by the height of a bar allowing you to quickly see how the popular each answer is

For Example.

Can you give this bar graph a title?

Which is the most popular method of travelling to school?

Which is the least popular method of travelling to school?

Maths

Colour	Number of Year 1 Children
 Pink
 Red
 Grey
 Green
 Blue
 Yellow
 Orange

Can you use this data I have collected to make your own bar graph. Remember it will need a title.

If you would like a challenge can you use one block to represent 2 children? What would you do if it was an odd number?

Over the next 4 weeks, for your topic work, you are going to be completing a project about Mexico! Everyone in the school is doing the same project so that if you have siblings, then you can all do similar activities and teach each other things. Activities will be posted weekly with a particular focus. Choose the activities you would most like to do and present them creatively! You can present your work however you like, for example, in the form of artwork, a scrapbook, a PowerPoint.

Suggested activities for Festivals. (Please feel free to do your own if you would prefer.)

- Día de Muertos is a very important festival in Mexico and although it is called the Day of The Dead it actually is a celebration of life. Can you find out some of the traditions that take place on the day of the festival? If you have the film COCO you could watch it and write a film review.
- Dia de la Independencia is Mexicos independence day. What date is this day celebrated on. Research how people celebrate. Can you research who Mexico used to be ruled by? Maybe you might like to design your own card to celebrate Mexican independence.
- Can you find out about the Easter festivals in Mexico. How is it different to how we celebrate Easter in this country? Do they give and receive Easter eggs?
- Find out about Three Kings Day. Maybe you could make your own crown and act out the story of the Three Kings.

- REMEMBER, you do not have to do all of these in a week, they are just ideas. Have fun.
