Owls & Goslings

This week we were very excited to find a tea party in the hall. We thought about who might have had a tea party at the school and talked about The Tiger who came to Tea. Owls thought about which animal they would like to invite to tea and made invitations. Gosling also thought about who they would like to have tea with and made masks.

Skylarks

This week we were also excited to discover the mysterious tea party! We thought about tea parties we knew from stories such as Alice in Wonderland and Beauty and the Beast. We twisted Goldilocks and the Three Bears to have Goldilocks throwing a tea party to apologise for eating baby bear's porridge! The children came up with some very inventive ideas.

Kestrels

In Kestrels this week, we have completed our big writes about the abandoned tea party which appeared in the hall on Monday. The children based their stories on Alice in Wonderland and created a wonderful and very interesting world in which we had cheese races, upside down forests, tea-rexes and genies in teapots. The children worked so hard on their stories and I was really impressed with them!

Free Online Webinars: Feb - March 2026

The PINS Spring Webinar programme offers a series of free, supportive online sessions designed to help families better understand and support neurodiverse children — both at home and in school.

These sessions are part of PINS (Partnerships for Inclusion of Neurodiversity in Schools), a Norfolk programme working alongside families and schools to create inclusive, understanding learning environments for every child.

Understanding neurodiversity in school

- Social communication and friendships
- Masking and emotional wellbeing
- Behaviour as communication
- Inclusive school cultures
- Working positively with families
- Supportive learning environments

These sessions are designed to be supportive, practical and understanding. Whether you're just beginning to explore neurodiversity or looking for new ideas, you'll find insight, reassurance and encouragement.

All sessions are free and delivered online via Microsoft Teams. Joining links are attached with QR codes as an option. Join as many sessions as you like — even just one can make a difference.
